West Coast premiere of:

Ready, Set, Grow: a coming of age story

Friday, Oct. 28, 8pm in Studio Theater

What becomes of little black boys who've considered suicide robbed of any rites of passage? Moving through the complex maze of American poverty, racism, sexism, homophobia and HIV/AIDS, Ready, Set, Grow suggests that "waiting for superman" may not be as empowering as becoming a super man. Tim'm West offers his own transparent, vulnerable, and redemptive experiences in this moving one-man show.

Tim'm T. West is a poet, activist, educator and hip hop. Author of the critically acclaimed Red Dirt Revival: a poetic memoir in 6 breaths, he also has three solo albums, most recently, Fly Brotha. With degrees from Duke, The New School, and Stanford, he has spent much of his professional life between teaching, youth advocacy and HIV education. Tim'm West's HSU visit is sponsored by the Office of Diversity and Inclusion, HSU Library, Queer Humboldt, CAHSS Dean's Office, and the Departments of English, Sociology, Philosophy, World Languages & Cultures, and Critical Race, Gender & Sexuality Studies (CRGS).

Both events are free and open to the public.
